Hongkong, 18th January, 1889.

POST OFFICE NOTIFICATION.

It is hereby notified for general information that the following modifications have been made in the regulations for the transmission of letters by post from Hongkong to the United Kingdom by way of South Malan.

1st. The removal of the prohibition against transmission of articles of intrinsic value by

2nd. Samples of books, drugs and similar articles are now allowed to be sent in by express, provided such have transportation, and the Officers of the Post Office may satisfy the collector as to the nature of the contents.

3rd. The rule which prohibited the transmission through the post, as patterns, of articles of dress, &c., has been rescinded, and now scissors, razors, forks, steel pens, nails, keys, watch chains, metal tubing, pieces of metal or wire, and such like articles, are now allowed to be forwarded by the post as samples, provided they be packed in the proper manner.

ed and guarded in no secure manner as to to complete protection to the contents of mail bags, and to the persons of the Officers the Post Office. Such articles however must so packed that they may be easily examined, it is made a rule that any packet containing an article which may be found to be insufficiently guarded shall not be forwarded through the post.
It will be understood that the foregoing regulations extend only to Patterns to be in the mills forwarded by way of Southampton to the United Kingdom, at the same time the gulations at present in force as to the transmission of Patterns in the mails forwarded by de Marseille to the United Kingdom have so far altered as to admit of samples of designs and similar articles being forwarded in mails via France packed in transparent bags which may be gilded; such bags however must not contain any thing in the nature of a letter and articles themselves so forwarded must be of intrinsic value.
